Dear Closing Agent:

Beginning January 1, 2010, pursuant to Indiana Code 27-7-3-15.5, you will be required to input certain pieces of information, regarding professionals involved in residential purchase money mortgage transactions and residential refinance transactions, into a confidential database. The full text of this statute can be found at: <http://www.in.gov/legislative/ic/code/title27/ar7/ch3.html>.

The Indiana Department of Insurance ("Department") is tasked with establishing and maintaining this database. The Database is called the Residential Real Estate Acquisition of Licensee Information and Numbers ("RREAL IN") database. You can reach the home page of RREAL IN at http://in.gov/apps/in_rreal/Login.aspx. Messages about the database will be posted here and an on-line tutorial will be posted here at a later date for your convenience.

The Department will be conducting several training sessions around the state to educate closing agents on the statute and the mechanics of the database. Enclosed, please find a training schedule containing confirmed locations and dates of these training sessions. Also included is a training registration form. If you are interested in attending a training session, please complete the registration form by including your information and selecting your 1st and 2nd choices to attend a training session. Reservation space is limited and is available on a first come first served basis. These training sessions are voluntary and are being conducted to give you more information about compliance with RREAL IN.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me or the RREAL IN System Administrator, Randall Evans, at (317) 234-5881 or rrealin@idoi.in.gov.

Very truly yours,

Stephen W. Robertson
